

Assignment #9

Auto layout + UI = Calculator

Create a new App that perform basic calculator operations, the app must contain buttons that represent each number and operation, and also the App must be able to perform those operations correctly.

The final layout must look like this:

Requirements:

- The App must be written in Swift.
- The App must make use of auto layout constraints.